

The Bridge of Cally Hotel - Privacy Policy

The Bridge of Cally Hotel privacy policy is designed to ensure all user information collected is maintained with the greatest care for accuracy and privacy and that it complies with current data protection legislation. This document describes the application of that policy to information collected by Turretcairn Ltd (Turretcairn) on this web site.

Fundamentals

We do not hold personal contact information about you unless you have provided it. We will not sell or rent your information to other organisations. We will not disclose your information to other organisations or individuals, except in the limited manner and for the limited purposes described below.

How we collect and use your information

You are not required to provide any personal contact information in order to be able to browse our website. The website has several forms relating to specific services, e.g. requesting information, that may ask you to provide your name, mailing address, phone and fax number or e-mail address so that we can deal with your request.

Turretcairn uses current and past user information internally within Turretcairn and with any subsidiaries or partners in order to provide users with support, service, and/or other requested information.

Turretcairn may release current or past user information to third parties for limited purposes in the event that Turretcairn believes that usage is used to commit unlawful acts; and/or is required to be disclosed to comply with applicable laws or regulations, or with a court or administrative order.

Using the web server software we log information (including IP addresses) relating to each file accessed on our server machine. We use this to gather broad demographic information and count the number of visits to the website. Turretcairn uses this non-personal information about visitors to track the URL that the visitor has come from (whether this URL is on the Bridge of Cally Hotel website or not), the URL that the visitor goes to next (if that URL is on the Bridge of Cally Hotel website), the Internet browser being used, the type of operating system used, the visitor's web server location, and the visitor's IP address. Turretcairn may use such non-personal information for purposes including, but not limited to, improving the contents of its website, and for research.

A single cookie is automatically set and used by our Server software for every visitor for the purpose of using session-related variables. The value the server software sets within the cookie points back to a server database that holds the session value. It has no other purpose.

The Bridge of Cally Hotel website may contain links to other sites. Turretcairn is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such websites.

Changes to the Privacy Policy

Turretcairn may make improvements or changes to the information, services and other materials on the Bridge of Cally Hotel website at any time without notice. Turretcairn may modify this Privacy Policy at any time, and such modification shall be effective immediately upon posting of the modified Privacy Policy.

If you have any questions about this Privacy policy, the practices of this site, or your dealings with this website, you can contact webmaster@bridgeofcallhotel.com.
